

growing up global

The Early Years Handbook with a clear global dimension demonstrates how global education can be a thread running through learning and teaching right from the start.

Very young children form ideas about people, cultures and countries – Growing Up Global uses fun activities, stories, songs, poems, recipes and games to celebrate growing up in a global world. It challenges stereotypes, giving children a balanced view of our world... In 12 exciting sections from 'Me and My Family' to 'Making a Story-tent', from 'Surprises in South Africa' to 'Check out China', the Handbook encourages young children to look at our world, and the people in it, with respect – so they grow up as global citizens in our increasingly interdependent 21st century world.

Includes over 70 activities... a CD... colour photos... weblinks...

Growing Up Global is available in September 2006. To register interest contact:

RISC, 35-39 London Street, Reading RG1 4PS

t: 0118 958 6692, e: helen@risc.org.uk

www. risc .org.uk